IT 112: Web Systems and Technologies
Laboratory Reflection – Week7_MiniFullStackStarter

Name: Odoño, Cedrick R.. Course/Year: BSIT-2C
Instructor: Guillermo V. Red, Jr. Date: 03-22-26

For this part, I followed the instructions carefully, which allowed me to complete the Week 7 activity successfully. Although I encountered some errors along the way, I was able to resolve them quickly with the guidance of AI. When my classmate asked about the issue, I confirmed that the problem came from a code addition I had made, which explained why the error occurred.

To keep my webpage consistent and visually appealing, I used the same headers, navigation, and footer across the design. I also applied flexbox styling similar to my previous webpages, ensuring a uniform look and structure throughout my portfolio. This activity gave me a clearer understanding of how the front-end and back-end work together, while reinforcing the importance of consistency in design.
